

Knowledge Mosaic Case Study: Large Enterprise, Computer Hardware Company

“The Knowledge Mosaic search tools allowed me to find examples of financial footnote disclosure addressing an unusual situation. I love the search capabilities, which are great for locating helpful examples. The company information drop down adds information that puts the disclosure in context, so you can make an informed decision about the applicability of a sample to your situation. I also appreciate having all content available in easy to read and use formats. I used to use the document cart a lot too, but have had less need recently.”
