

Celigo Impact

“ It has allowed us to set up and flow and forget it in a sense. Of course there are still the occasional errors to deal with. But we are freed up to focus on valued added parts of the business rather than simple tasks. Also, since the flows are automated, our customers and third party seller platforms get responses quickly no matter what time of day it is.

Celigo has also helped me to grow my limited skills in API's and data mapping. The platform allows for as much customization as you want/need, but it also is simple enough to grow into that.
