" We're able to clean up vestigial rules and bits of config as we continue to grow our organization organically. Being able to pare these items back allows us to rapidly onboard new team members as the configs are no longer 250 pages worth of code and everything that's left has a documented use.

— James Forshag, Network Administrator, Acadian Ambulance Service, Inc.

CISCO | TechValidate by SurveyMonkey