

Recently we were contacted by an organization informing us that a device at our institute was infected and scanning hosts on the Internet. Our endpoint protection product did not pick this up. Luckily, we had Stealthwatch. Using the time, date, and destination IP information they provided us, we were able to quickly find the infected host and remediate it. I'm not sure what we would have done without Stealthwatch.

— Roberto D. Rubino, Chief Technology Officer, Passaic County Technical Institute

Source: Roberto D. Rubino, Chief Technology Officer, Passaic County Technical Institute

TechValidate
by SurveyMonkey

Published: Oct. 12, 2016 TVID: D02-6E0-186