

Barry Doyle, an IT Administrator at Crisp County School System, would be very likely to recommend Cisco Umbrella for this reason:

Cisco Umbrella has been an excellent partner in two ways. First, excellent content filtering and granular control over content and reporting. Second, defending our school system by intercepting botnets, malware and ransomware attempting to connect to Control Server. Defense against ransomware is a layered approach. I would add that the Active Directory interface has been a useful tool to help manage and inform how the network bandwidth is used.
