

Randall Krause-Vinson, a Clinical Educator at BayCare Health System, would be very likely to recommend Crisis Prevention Institute for this reason:

“ I believe that CPI is helpful in keeping patients and staff safe. De-escalation techniques are effective in providing the best care possible with patients in crisis. This training has allowed me to train staff to not put hands on patients but to recognize each person as a human. There are many tools available to recognize a person is struggling and how to assist them.

Source: Randall Krause-Vinson, Clinical Educator, BayCare Health System

TechValidate
by SurveyMonkey

✓ Validated Published: Dec. 20, 2021 TVID: 050-3E1-108

Based on a response of 10 to the question "On a scale of 0-10, how likely would you be to recommend Crisis Prevention Institute?"