

Staff are able to recognize the non-verbal cues of when an individual is anxious which helps to decrease the number of episodes of acting out behavior. Individuals have increased their ability to communicate their needs with the staff working with them. Through use of the Tension Reduction/Therapeutic Report, there have been a number of great changes in not only our staff but also the individuals.

— Mary Aumick, Social Worker, Partners in Progress

Source: Mary Aumick, Social Worker, Partners in Progress

Validated Published: Jan. 12, 2023 TVID: 5F5-750-C70

TechValidate
by SurveyMonkey