

“ The staff feels more confident that they know what to do in the event of someone who has gone beyond the “anxious” response. Improved verbal skills, understanding, and talking points.

— Christine Jakel, Security Professional, Children's Hospital Central California

Source: Christine Jakel, Security Professional, Children's Hospital Central California

TechValidate
by SurveyMonkey

✓ Validated

Published: Jan. 14, 2023 TVID: 633-D7C-7F7