

Lee County Youth Development Center – Alabama

Prevention Educator Lisa Johnson recommends Crisis Prevention Institute because:

We've used CPI for many years. The program is top notch, and the CPI staff who train you as a trainer are very professional, as are the staff who are there for you after you become a trainer.

As a result, our staff is more confident on the job. They have learned real skills that help them interact with our clients. The Trauma-Informed Care component of training has given them a better understanding of why our clients behave the way they do. It also shows them that as staff we must have positive connections with our clients, offer them safety, and teach them impulse control.
