As a Tester, what are your top pain points?

Identifying risks and issues (bugs) - testing the product/project/people/process

Communicating what has been identified, in the right way, to the right person, at the right time - so it gets the necessary attention

Technology - staying on top of trends, tools, techniques, and technologies so as to be best placed to deal with current and emerging challenges

Managing their environment - for testing and often for development (of scripts, test code etc) also

Time - focusing energies on the most important things, knowing when to escalate or ask for help

Learning about the product/project/domain - to better identify and contextualize risks/issues and how best to communicate them

People - developing strong relationships with developers, other testers, BA's/PO's/PM's
