

5/5 Stars

How our organization uses Ranorex:

Our company develops and manufactures a vast range of devices in the Energy Industry.

We have a small internationally distributed test automation development team.

All QA team members use automation tests for all types of products for regression, load, and stability tests.

Multiple stations run tests in parallel.

Why would you recommend Ranorex?

Easy for beginners and strong for professionals.

Ready for emerging needs due to rich integrations with other tools.

Covers product test automation in almost every industry where external interfaces exist.
