

Retailer recommends OpenSesame

Kim Rovansek, a Learning and Development Manager at PrimeSource Building Products, Inc., would be very likely to recommend OpenSesame for this reason:

“ OpenSesame is very easy to use and has an extensive library of courses from a variety of publishers. It was very easy to upload these courses into our LMS and to continuously refresh them. The courses also reflect current leadership and personal development theory as well as safety and compliance requirements. It is a pleasure to use their materials and working with their teams!
