

What could we change (or add) to help make PitchBook your go-to newsletter/news resource?

I get too many newsletters with too many random articles, and in too many different formats. I don't read any of them. I now get my news from the NYT.

Would be great to have something that is easier to digest and just has stories that are relevant and interesting.

Your format is too confusing. Insider does an ok job, but they are too structured and I feel like they have to have an article even if there isn't anything worthwhile to report about in the category.
