

“ For one area of our department, I'd spend at least a couple of hours a day running various reports and queries, and then analyzing the output from those to determine my next steps. Once I built out the Qlik app and associated all the necessary data together, I now spend less than 1/2 hour a day figuring out my next steps. So, it's saved me almost an entire work day every week. Other people are using the app and saving time as well!
