SCOPUS CUSTOMER RESEARCH

Responses by Purpose

For which purpose(s) do you use Scopus most often?

- Tracking citations and/or publications (my own or another author) 65%
- Keeping myself informed about advances in my area of expertise / field / discipline 62%
- Getting ideas for a new research project, direction for my thesis, or to plan experiments 46%
- Reading for a course assignment or research project 38%
- Discovering information on a subject outside my area of expertise / field / discipline 32%
- Locating publications to include in a grant proposal I am or will be writing or contributing to 30%
- Preparing a lecture / presentation (e.g. for a class / conference) or an article/book/review for publication 29%

Source: TechValidate survey of 486 users of Scopus

Validated Published: Jun. 13, 2017 TVID: A06-BBC-2D4