

One of our DC's kept crashing at 100% CPU. Log and Event Manager showed us a user account was doing about 40,000 more log entries than the next highest user account. We found out that user changed their password and was still logged onto a remote session with the old password. After logging them out of that remote session, the log entries were dramatically reduced and our DC has been stable.

— Chris Smith, Network Administrator, Human Kinetics

Source: Chris Smith, Network Administrator, Human Kinetics

✓ Validated

Published: Oct. 21, 2016 TVID: 799-73C-CCE

solarwinds

TechValidate
by SurveyMonkey