

HS Soluciones – Computer services company

Introduction

This case study of HS Soluciones is based on an October 2020 survey of SonicWall SD-Branch customers by TechValidate, a 3rd-party research service.

“The SonicWall SD-Branch solution is the best.”
- Octavio Lopez, IT Manager

Challenges

The challenge of managing remote branch offices had motivated the Mexican computer services company to implement an SD-Branch solution. Security and segmentation for compliance were the most important criteria in its selection process.

The small business had previously evaluated a Meraki solution before choosing SonicWall SD-Branch.

Use Case

The company deployed SonicWall SD-Branch to streamline management of its distributed enterprise deployment. Lopez has SonicWall entry-level TZ Series firewalls deployed in his network environment. He especially appreciated the administration security of the SonicWall Switches.

Results

Lopez rates the SonicWall SD-Branch solution 5 out of 5 stars.

“SonicWall SD-Branch helped my organization attain digital transformation,” reports Lopez.

“It helped us safeguard our BYOD and work-from-home initiatives.”
