How our organization uses Stack Overflow for Teams:

" We have been using an old-style documentation platform. Searching the documents and organizing them has been a huge burden for the developers. By integrating Stack Overflow for Teams, the discoverability of knowledge has been drastically improved. The time spent by seniors mentoring juniors has been reduced. The knowledge base is gradually increasing so that we get more and more queries from the juniors where we can ask them to go refer to Stack Overflow for Teams.

Would you recommend Stack Overflow for Teams?

" Yes. For a software development company, Stack Overflow for Teams will definitely add value to organize their knowledge base and make it more discoverable.
